

Freemasonry: Influence Peddlers of the World

Evans Nicholson – www.ctmin.org

The origins of Freemasonry are obscure with claims often taking on mythical proportions depending upon source material and promotional backing. Our contemporary concept of Freemasonry however began in England in 1717 with the development of Modern Freemasonry. Prior to that date the secret passwords, rituals, obligations and signals used for recognition varied from lodge to lodge. Masons visiting from England could not be relied upon to be able to convey the secret password in an Irish lodge let alone anywhere else in the Empire. Faced with this problem the Grand Lodge of England standardized the first three degrees called the Blue Lodge degrees known as the Ancient and Accepted Rite of Freemasonry. This modern innovation consolidated the Masonic membership into a unified Brotherhood under the concept of Universal Freemasonry founded by the Mother Lodge in London. As every Mason must be duly obligated in the Blue Lodge degrees this standardization of Masonic ritual was imperative for global networking wherever Freemasonry began to take root. The obligation is what binds all Masonic brethren into a cohesive group in which national, political and religious boundaries are non-existent. Masons bind themselves into obedience to the Brotherhood by oaths to the god of Freemasonry called The Great Architect Of The Universe. The significance of Freemasonry's Great Architect can be examined in our article Architect Of The Capital where he is shown on display in the Prayer Room of the White House and on the U.S. one dollar bill. Our 5-page article First Lodge Night examines the Architect's identity and what Masons actually bind themselves to in their Masonic rituals.

Few Masons understand the significance of Masonic obligation or how this impacts themselves and the lives of others. Most Masons choose to ignore any agenda other than a personal agenda accessing 'the benefits of the lodge' through Masonic membership. In particular situations, if required, Masons have the ability to move from nation to nation protected wherever they go or wherever they are sent. Finances, even a new identity can easily be provided when necessary. On occasion murder and treason have been linked to Masonic manipulation where Masons have been moved beyond the reach of jurisdictions avoiding Masonic implication. As a secret society members have sworn to protect the Masonic Order upon penalty of death and mutilation in various rituals. An example of these things involving Masonic murder with manipulation by the courts can be viewed in Appendix 'C', The Murder of Captain William Morgan from The Court System And Freemasonry. When the aspect of being a secret society is brought into question Masonic authorities respond by saying, "Freemasonry is not a secret society but a society that has secrets." Masons in every level of government and judiciary affirm this to be true erecting barriers that would otherwise expose their positions of power and jeopardize the financial incentives attached. To hinder any investigation of its activities Masons elevate themselves into the highest positions of authority including communications and governmental censorship. Not only does this consolidate security for the Masonic lodge it also protects each Mason from scandal or criminal prosecution that would tarnish the public image of Freemasonry. Even if a prosecution process occurs Masonic authorities are in place working with media to assist with containment and damage control.

Canada, the U.S.A. and most countries in the world share a historical heritage involving Freemasonry. In the U.S.A. alone almost half the U.S. Presidents were Masons under Masonic obligation. Masonic authorities proclaim that America's Masonic heritage has a direct relationship to its achievements and greatness. In response we only have to look to the many South American Masonically controlled dictatorships with power to the Masons and poverty for the people. In this context we see that Freemasonry enslaves nations where it is not opposed.

Rather than making America great it needs to be recognized how much greater America could have been without Masonic manipulation. When the new nation of America was being formed the Masons involved fought for it to be called the Free Masonic Republic of America. Scripturally inspired Christians joined with others opposing the Masonic agenda fighting for the new nation to be called the United States of America. Without these patriots America would now be a third world dictatorship if Freemasonry had achieved control of America. Canada if it even existed would have also have been relegated to this same status serving the Masonic agenda existing throughout South America.

Canada and the U.S.A. are two nations sharing a British heritage founded in the Scriptural principles upon which our nations were formed. This Christian heritage was extended to others seeking refuge from oppression willing to resist Masonic corruption tainting nations globally. After analyzing the state of nations from Mexico down into the Masonically dominated nations of South America we quickly recognize Freemasonry for what it is. A destructive forces in every nation it touches. America is a great nation because of the men and women who fought against Masonic influence. People who responded to George Washington's warnings about the secret societies. We have an article George Washington And Freemasonry that looks at his relationship with Freemasonry contrary to myths Masons have created. Using Canada as a reference everything that applies to the people of Canada applies equally well within other nations. The more significant correlations would of course apply within British Commonwealth countries and those nations who were once part of the British Empire including America prior to independence. Much of the information used to analyze Masonic interference in Canada comes from information gathered concerning Masonic interference in the U.S.A. We can look at the U.S. courts exploited by Masonic manipulation and apply what we learn in an examination of our Canadian courts. This is done in our free print ready manual The Court System And Freemasonry to expose corruption in the Canadian judicial system as well as in the U.S.A. Through materials such as this it becomes readily apparent that Canadians and Americans are subjected to criminal abuse by the courts from Masons exercising their self-serving Masonic obligations. This violation of our Constitutional rights is even more disturbing when we learn that there are no safeguards in our Constitutions, such as in Britain despite their enforcement issues, to protect our rights and freedoms.

When a self-serving, self-obligated, criminal element is allowed to occupy the highest levels of our courts questions must be asked with answers demanded from those who tolerate corruption in our courts. When Masons go to court they pre-arrange to be judged by a brother Mason sworn to protect them in all matters including murder and treason in the higher degrees. In disputes involving Masons their cases, whether property or criminal matters, are decided prior to court proceedings. This is defined as conspiracy when judicial matters are manipulated even though Masons commit these criminal acts every day in Canada, America and around the world wherever Freemasonry has not been opposed. Since Masons arbitrarily circumvent law and order they represent a subversive force in society corrupting all notions involving the existence of a law-abiding society. Laws have no effect involving Freemasonry or the ability to protect those criminally abused by Masons. When we learn that many of our political leaders are Masons obligated to the Brotherhood rather than serving the people of Canada and America we begin to understand these leaders who do nothing. Our leaders who work in secrecy and in conjunction with their Masonic brethren through the courts to conspire against our Constitutional rights. Authorities who work together in the Brotherhood to protect each other while reaping huge monetary rewards through criminal conspiracy without any accountability or fear of prosecution. One leg of this conspiracy takes care of the political aspects while the other presides over any legal challenges.

The nations of Canada and America are not free or democratic when our political and legal systems have been compromised by members of the secret societies. When members of the secret societies have the power to subvert any examination of criminal activity and when these members exercise greater power than the Constitution our nations are corrupt.

When Canada and America are called free and democratic it's only an illusion shielding those without accountability for their activities. The following are only a few examples of Masonic manipulation under protection of our courts within the governments of Canada and the U.S.A. which is applicable to most other nations.

Business and the competition process.

government contracting	consulting and mediation	budget overrides
public sector contracting	contract negotiation	kickbacks
private sector contracting	contract bids; open and closed	bribes construction contracts	contract selection	racketeering
military contracts	government grants	extortion

This list could be expanded by volumes affected by:

banking	real estate	stock market manipulation
venture capital	expropriation	commodities
pension funds	land speculation	financial fraud
utilities	assessment	appraisals
investments	re-zoning	management
wage control	by laws	marketing

Promotional process.

job promotion	corporate structuring
management position	regional structuring
executive position	political structuring
military commission	municipal manipulation

The pharmaceuticals provide some examples of multinational patronage research facilities	stock market promotion	patient approval

research grants	testing bias	patient grants government approval	inflated drug costs	patient extension outsourcing	price fixing	patient protection

Patronage.

sponsorship	CEO wage packages	communications
tax exemption	material and resources	media
insider trading	supplies	sports
bailouts	labor relations	franchising

Various institutions regularly promote themselves as having insider influence. They do this in a variety of ways including the use of symbols the average person wouldn't recognize to avoid any complications arising from patronage issues, etc.

An example is the International Association Of Machinists And Aerospace Workers who generate considerable insider influence with political patronage avoiding the competition process.

Think of a globally connected network of men obligated in Freemasonry creating affiliated organizations including women's groups subject to Masonic authority. These affiliated organizations range from the service groups focused on commendable social and charitable functions to organizations with Mafia driven connections. Even though many members of the service groups are unaware of Masonic affiliation they ultimately exist for a purpose whether to extend a community network or to serve as a source of recruitment. Once recruited these men and women are obligated to freely share every aspect of your private affairs, business, banking, medical and confidential information. Men who have joint access to your social security, financial records, military records including any recorded information regarding even your personal family history. Men who direct financial institutions effecting the global economy, the secret services, governmental affairs nationally and internationally. Apply this to what we know about Masonic obligation operating in the courts and we begin to understand the corruption in society effecting all of our lives. Due to their insider knowledge with all the power this gives to Masons they are able to enter politics at every level of government. Once in positions of authority they promote Masonic brethren into lucrative positions creating solidarity throughout the ranks of power.

Every society that tolerates corruption incurs great cost within its social structure. Relying on governmental agencies to function lawfully the reigns of power are held by those obligated to a subversive agent compromising the welfare of nations. Regarding work equality there are men and women promoted for their loyalty to the Architect who are less qualified to meet the performance standards of a job. Others who are grossly incompetent. In Canada the Royal Canadian Mounted Police force has been a symbol of integrity and national pride. Through the promotion of incompetent Masonic leadership ongoing scandal and negligence including the Air India disaster has reduced this once highly regarded agency into a source of international disgrace. If we consider how this effects just our emergency and medical services we can relate cost in relation to that of human life. In England for example investigations have attempted to determine how prevalent the deaths of children were at a children's hospital due to Masonic affiliation. Attempting to overcome Masonic solidarity investigators want to know what role incompetent Masonic surgeons had in deaths of children under their care. Masonic administration in tandem with those in the ranks of power has been formidable while those responsible were transferred or provided other forms of protection. When we recognize that children suffer and die due to Masonic patronage we understand that our co-existence with corruption costs the lives of those unable to defend themselves. A nation surrendering its social conscience has denied advocacy for its children. In response to threat involving Masonic corruption there are those coming forward defending their nations, Ukrainian MP Taras Chornovil has submitted a Bill to Parliament attaching criminal responsibility in their Criminal Code to make Masonic membership punishable with prison terms of up to three years. The Bill also reads that Masonic members who are civil servants, law enforcement or military personnel must be jailed for three to seven years. Jail sentences of ten to fifteen years where membership in Masonic organizations has caused death. Mosnews.com 11 news

When those like MP Taras Chornovil have come forward along with MP's in England defending their nations we have an opportunity to believe in the reality of a free and democratic nation provided we are willing to do the same. To reinstate our Constitutional rights and freedoms we must be willing to firmly ask our political leaders what it'll take for them to acknowledge that corruption is a crime that won't be tolerated. When political leaders refuse to act they have made themselves complicit with crime defined by the Criminal Code in each of their nations. In Canada, ignoring criminal activity has reduced the RCMP to that of incompetency, corrupted our courts and endangered the lives of children. When Masonic judges are unrestrained in their ability to set rapists and child molesters free to repeat their crimes; when political leaders are more concerned for their political careers than the lives that could be spared by taking a stand for truth and justice we live in a corrupt nation. The existence of corruption in Canada is expanded upon in our article Canada And Freemasonry. While we could conclude that the moral values of our politicians in Canada and America are non-existent this is not the case. Factors involving fear and apathy have challenged the morality many of our political leaders would otherwise exemplify. Freemasonry is a powerful force that few are willing to stand against. However, choosing to remain silent, complicit with darkness, has a cost for each individual who chooses to ignore His call to administrate justice. It should be acknowledged however, that in relation to many of our political leaders around the world, they are astute in waiting for the opportunity to step forward with their political power intact and effective for the time in which they are called. Political leaders who are fearful and apathetic will be challenged by them to also step forward rejecting criminal corruption in their nations.

Currently in North America when American children are subjected to abuse and threat to life for prolonged periods mental stability can be seriously challenged. When these conditions are sanctioned by Masons in politics and judiciary America has lost all claim of having a social conscience in relation to corruption and its violation of human rights. The American concept of justice is compromised by criminal corruption when their children can be threatened by Masons in authority. Free and democratic nations will not tolerate this, as does America. Although I am grateful to Canada for intervening on behalf of my son I am disappointed in Canadian officials who have not come forward like those in the Ukraine and England. Those in political positions who could oppose corruption in the Canadian political ranks of power. Even one Canadian MP who would fight towards a free and democratic nation with protection for our children. Attached is a copy of a letter directed to Queen Elizabeth II for those who receive and respond to concerns on her behalf. My experience with justice in North America is that it's ignored when our political leaders and our courts are part of the problem due to Masonic membership or fear of political reprisal. My letter is therefore directed to authority in England asking recognition for Canadian and American children unable to defend themselves, abused while corruption is ignored. I can only ask that the liberty taken in making this letter public will be considered in relation to the needs of our children in seeking voices to defend them. Voices that would defend justice for everyone.
